Russo-Chinese Pact

By DeWITT MacKENZIE,
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

THE new Russo-Chinese treaty of friendship is—on the face of it—one of the most constructive pacts of the entire world war period.

Of course the proof of the pudding is in the eating, but the thirty-year agreement, if carried out in the fullness of its promise, would go far towards guaranteeing peace between Asiatic nations for the coming generation. And that would do much to ensure global tranquility.

That in itself would be an estimable boon to humanity, but the pact seems to strike much deeper than that. We have here a gesture by Moscow which appears calculated to dispel suspicions held by the other allies regarding Russia's ambitions, not only in Asia but in Europe.

Those suspicions certainly exist, but they cut both ways, for the Soviet union also has her doubts about the attitude of her allies in some particulars. This mutual distrust has constituted one of the greatest threats to continued unity among America, Britain and Russia—the big three upon whom the rest of the world depends to maintain peace. Without that unity no security organization can be made to work.

The close of the war is resulting in a realignment of spheres of influence among the European powers, for whether we like it or not—and a lot of folks don't like it—those spheres of influence are there. Russia's emergence as the great power of the eastern hemisphere—both Europe and Asia—has upset the political apple-cart. The Muscovites have been extending their influence into zones which formerly were under the sway of Britain, France, Germany or Italy.

Southeastern Europe is providing one of the current hot-spots. Communism is showing strength, and only last week British Foreign Secretary Bevin bluntly told the house of commons that the governments of Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary—all in the Russian zone of influence—do not represent the majority of the people. American Secretary of State Byrnes also notified the Bulgarian government that Washington didn't consider it as fully representing the people of Bulgaria.

As regards Asia, the world at large had been figuring that Moscow wanted to control Manchuria, among other territories. When the Russians declared war on Japan and quickly overran Manchuria and looked as though the Soviet Union had the Asiatic situation in a sack, she might even dominate China.

Now along comes this Russo-Chinese treaty in which Moscow signs away sweeping potential gains. The Soviet Union will support Gen. Chiang's government morally and give it military supplies—and won't aid the Chinese Communists who are at odds with Chiang's regime.

YOUTH CONFESSES
CAR THEFT HERE

Police today questioned and obtained a confession from a 17-year-old Salem youth in connection with the theft of an automobile, belonging to Andrew Gottschling, 208 Railroad st., last Thursday night.

The car was recovered in an orchard on Newgarden road Sunday afternoon.

A description of the youth, who was seen driving the car through Salem Saturday evening, led to his apprehension. Upon questioning he confessed having taken the car.

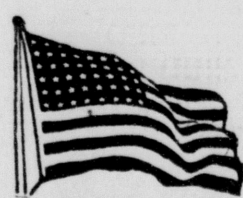

Police expect to turn him over to juvenile authorities tomorrow. He was released in custody of his father until his hearing in probate court.

AIRBORNE TROOPS COMMAND JAP FIELD

County To Face Shortage
Of Workers In Year

Peace time employment in Columbiana county, contrary to current layoff indications due to contract cut-backs, is surprisingly good and indications are that the county will actually need approximately seven and half per cent more workers within a year than were employed here at any time during the war.

That's the impression to be gathered from a survey recently conducted throughout the industry in the county by the Council for Economic Defense. These figures were gathered in a survey conducted by the CED with managers of the various plants throughout the county. The agricultural outlook, however, does not present as rosy a picture.

From all indications given by industrial employers, tentative post-war plans would easily absorb the released war workers and an actual manpower shortage may exist after peace time production schedules are fully under way.

The survey also revealed that all this employment, expected to be in effect within a year from now, does not take into consideration the expected absorption of some hundreds of men into previously inactive building trades.

The large lay-off of women throughout war plants in Columbiana county has not been discounted in the CED's survey, and the figure announced is said to include jobs for as many of them as may be seeking re-employment.

The compilation of "jobs-to-be" may not be 100 per cent accurate, but the seven and a half per cent shortage of workers here a year from now has been figured conservatively, CED officials believe.

WINDS LASH
TEXAS TOWNSBuildings Flattened and Crops Washed Out As Hurricane Strikes

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 28.—A lashing gulf coast hurricane struck today toward the great metropolitan Houston-Galveston area, but there were indications the storm was abating in intensity as it moved inland.

The death toll mounted to three as one man was killed in the collapse of a residence in suburban Houston, buffeted by a 55-mile an hour gale last night. Earlier two fishermen drowned off Port Isabel, Texas, when heavy seas capsized their boat.

Hundreds were left homeless in the storm's wake and damage was counted in the millions.

An early morning weather bureau report declared "torrential rains have set in and there are indications that the hurricane is slowly weakening now that it is well inland."

Hurricane warnings were ordered down this morning at Port O'Connor, but continued to be displayed north of Port O'Connor to Galveston, and southeast storm warnings were flown east of Galveston to Lake Charles, La.

100-mile Winds Strike
The advisory, from the New Orleans weather bureau, stated that the storm was centered 10 miles northeast of Wharton, Texas, where 100-mile-an-hour winds struck late last night, and is moving northeastward about five miles per hour. Wharton is a city of about 4,000 population 60 miles southwest of Houston.

Gales that reached 55 miles-per-hour ripped through Houston last night and many sections of the battered-down city were inundated by blinding, torrential rains that measured more than seven inches.

Transportation facilities were disrupted and more than 15,000 persons in Harris county sought shelter in

DEATH CAR DRIVER
SAYS NOT GUILTY

James A. Heim, 16, of East Rochester, who was the driver of a car which struck four pedestrians on Route 30, near Minerva, last Wednesday, killing one man and seriously injuring another, was arraigned in probate court yesterday afternoon and released on $1,000 bond, pending a further hearing Oct. 2.

Heim pleaded not guilty to the charge, filed by Coroner Ernest Sturgis, and was released on bond. The youth, charged with juvenile delinquency which may culminate in a second degree manslaughter charge, was attempting to pass another vehicle when he struck the four men, walking home from work at a nearby railroad yard.

PREPARE PACT
ON SINGAPOREJap Envoys Silent While
Agreement Is Signed
For Reoccupation

(By Associated Press)
RANGOON, Aug. 28.—Silent, tight-lipped Japanese surrender envoys signed preliminary agreements today which paved the way for Allied reoccupation of Singapore, all Southeast Asia and the East Indies.

The three envoys sat stiffly in straight-backed chairs in the grand ballroom in the government house, facing a table around which the Allied representatives were gathered.

Lt. Gen. Numata, as plenipotentiary for Field Marshal Count Jichi Terachi, commander of the Japanese southern armies, affixed Terachi's own seal with a red stamp.

His opposite number among the Allied representatives, Lt. Gen. F. A. M. Browning, signed on behalf of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied Southeast Asia commander, who told the enemy envoys they must now prepare the way for Allied reoccupation, pending Tokyo's formal surrender Sept. 2.

The agreement specified:

1. That the Japanese clear the way for immediate movement of

Black Market Crumbling, New Car
Prices Set - - Reconversion News

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Black markets were crumbling today—because more peacetime goods were coming up fast.

Black markets, prices, used cars, new cars, chickens, toys, and men wanting jobs—were big subjects for Americans.

Reputable dealers in used cars and chickens said black markets are starting to disappear. That's because new autos are on the way and there will be plenty of chickens for your dinner table "very soon."

Government officials added black markets in food are dwindling, and will fall away in all fields as shortages ease.

Auto Prices

Speaking of prices, there was this prime news about them today:

1. On used cars, they have finally started down.

2. On new cars, they will be at about the same levels as in 1942—says OPA.

3. On goods in general, an army of retailers invaded Washington to protect the OPA in trying to hold their prices below what they can stand.

From all indications, the OPA reply was to be a flat "no."

As the retail spokesmen met with OPA officials, the issue was this:

The OPA has ruled prices of new goods—not produced in wartime—must be at, or near, 1942 levels. In many instances the OPA is allowing manufacturers to charge more because their production costs have gone up. But retailers and wholesalers are supposed to "absorb" these increases so the public won't suffer.

More Developments

Some more developments in the nation's progress from war to peace:

Toys—there will be plenty for Christmas, but most of them will be the wartime kind that were in the stores last year. Government officials and industry sources predicted only the barest handful of tricycles, and metal wagons.

Men not working—Robert C. Goodwin, head of the U. S. Employment Service, said nearly 2,000,000 war workers have lost their jobs since Japan surrendered.

Men not fighting—the Navy, now

3,389,000 strong, announced it will be down to 550,000 in one year.

The National Automobile Dealers association said the future flood of new autos has caused the first downward break in the price of used cars. Most of them now are selling below price ceilings.

Poultry raises of nine leading chicken states were told they no longer need to set aside their chickens for the military.

Plenty of Chickens
As a result, an agriculture department spokesman said plenty of chickens for American dinner tables will be available "very soon."

A leading poultry firm said all indications point to a surplus in the near future.

The agriculture department lifted its restrictions on the production and sale of citrus fruits—both fresh and canned. Price ceilings remain.

The WPB began allowing firms to stock up on certain materials, aluminum, cork, sand, gravel, and pipe fittings, because these things aren't scarce now. Strict controls will be kept on building up stocks of scarce materials.

FIRST FOREIGN CONQUERORS
OCCUPY NIP HOMELAND WITH THIRD FLEET IN TOKYO BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Japanese who met the first American aimers to land on Atsugi field near Tokyo today were "polite as pie," and the advance units of General MacArthur's occupation forces encountered no trouble, radio reports from Okinawa said.

Initially slow to approach the first American planes to land, the Japanese later ventured near, and finally invited the pilots to six-course dinners.

(By The Associated Press)

MANILA, Aug. 28.—American airborne troops—the first foreign conquerors ever to set foot on Japan—took command of Tokyo's Atsugi airfield today, simultaneously with entry of the Third fleet's special advance squadron into Tokyo bay.

The first forces were small, but the occupation of the enemy's homeland was in progress after delays caused by Japanese negotiations and foul weather.

Meanwhile, 28 of Japan's remaining 55 warships, most of them destroyers or submarines, were found lined up for surrender in Kyushu's western port of Sasebo. Mitchell bomber pilots on reconnaissance flights from Okinawa sighted the vessels and said three damaged carriers, still under camouflage, light cruisers, destroyers and destroyer escorts were lined up in groups.

The sole task of the advance echelon at Atsugi was to prepare the way for the triumphal entry of Gen. MacArthur, supreme allied commander, Thursday at the head of 7,500 troops.

Joy of the first 150 communications experts, who landed at 9 a. m. (8 p. m. Monday night, Eastern War time) in three transports planes, at becoming the first troops to land in Japan was tempered by the announcement that 20 of their fellows had been killed in a take-off crash on Okinawa.

The first group was followed within three hours by 38 more transports carrying combat troops, gasoline, oil and additional equipment.

MacArthur Ready

Two separate jobs confronted advance group in preparing Atsugi for the general arrival—the setting up of communications with the Okinawa staging area and making as safe as possible the comparatively short runways. Only two runways—5,600 and 5,100 feet—are currently usable.

Thursday, when preparations are complete, MacArthur will leave the Okinawa staging area for the formal entry into Japan. About the time he is landing at Atsugi, his schedule calls for 10,000 Marines and Navy personnel to begin occupation of Yokosuka, Japan's second largest naval base, off which the advance units of the Third fleet anchored today.

(However, Al Dopping and Hamilton W. Faron, Associated Press correspondents with Admiral Halsey's fleet, both reported the first forces would land at Yokosuka tomorrow.)

At noon today, Rear Admiral Oscar C. Badger, aboard his flagship, the light anti-aircraft cruiser San Diego, steamed through Uraga strait into Tokyo bay. He led a small force of 10 ships, plus minesweepers. The destroyer-transport Gosselin carried Marines to land on three small islands guarding Yokosuka naval base to make certain they had been totally immobilized in conformance with Admiral Halsey's instructions.

Halsey's Fleet Awaits Signal
Twenty miles away, around Miura peninsula in Sagami bay, much of Admiral Halsey's great Third fleet and about a score of British warships rode at anchor, awaiting the signal to enter Tokyo bay for the Yokosuka landings. Screening this great force, the remainder of Halsey's fleet stood off Japan.

MacArthur's headquarters announced evacuation of Allied prisoners of war would be started by the Japanese "almost simultaneously" with the occupation. Prisoners released from camps in China and Manchuria as well as in Japan—where there are 12 main camps—all will be evacuated through Manila.

Associated Press Correspondent Vern Haugland radioed that a B-17 and a P-51 Mustang fighter landed today at Shanghai and found that Chinese city wholly occupied by Chinese troops.

Japanese in several Pacific islands indicated a willingness to surrender, but most insisted that they were awaiting official instructions from Tokyo.

The call is the first issued by the board here since the news of the capitulation of the Japanese. A pre-induction call is also expected early in September.

CLOSE COLUMBIA
PLANT THURSDAY

Cancellation of all war contracts for the manufacture of small bulbs will result in the closing of the Columbia Lamp works, S. Ellsworth ave., on Thursday, the General Electric Co. announced today.

The firm, which came to Salem in the spring of 1944, at peak production employed 160, all but five of whom were women.

Present plans call for complete closing of the plant here and the removal of equipment within 10 to 12 days.

The General Electric subdivision manufactured small light bulbs, used in Army and Navy airplanes.

Robert J. Lee, supervisor of the plant, said there was no indication at present of a possible reopening here.

Requests New Pupils
To Register Friday

All pupils who have moved into Salem during the summer and who expect to attend the senior high school are asked to register Friday in the high school principal's office.

Registration hours will be from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. The office is on the third floor.

It is especially important that all new pupils register before school starts because if this is left until the opening day of school, they will not be able to start classes on time with the regular pupils and will get behind in their work. Principal B. G. Ludwig, pointed out.

There will be a meeting of all freshmen on Sept. 4 at 1:15 p. m. for the purpose of becoming acquainted with their schedules, finding their rooms and getting general information relative to high school procedure.

Home room assignments will be announced the latter part of this week.

C. R. Cope, state traffic supervisor of the highway department, said the department was rushing its efforts to install a signal at the crossing.

Let's Use the Right Names

With lend-lease ended and the Truman administration pledged to experiment with other methods of extending credit to governments which can qualify for American aid, it is time to start using the right names.

Lend-lease was not a right name. It was misused to denote a transaction in which the United States gave certain needed articles to certain nations on the understanding that they would give the United States certain articles and services. In practice, there was little or no lending or leasing. There was an exchange of favors, with the lion's share of the money cost borne by the taxpayers of the United States. While it would be ridiculous to claim now that Congress and public opinion would not have supported lend-lease under a more accurate name, it is reasonable to believe that if a more accurate name had been used from the outset there would have been less misunderstanding.

Currently, in connection with revelation of Britain's apparent inability to get back on its feet without further injections of financial assistance by United States taxpayers, there is mention of non-interest-bearing loans, grants-in-aid and low interest-bearing loans over extremely long periods. A grant-in-aid is a laborious way to say "gift." A noninterest-bearing loan is a laborious way to say "probably a gift." A low interest-bearing loan over a long period is still another way of saying the same thing.

Unfortunately, gifts must be paid for out of the United States Treasury; i.e., the taxpayers' hip pockets. The name that happens to be used doesn't alter the consequences.

Souvenirs of Death

Appearing with disturbing frequency in the recent news have been reports of tragedies resulting from the explosions of souvenirs brought back from the wars. A somewhat typical instance occurred in Ohio a few days ago. The explosion of a supposedly harmless bazooka shell killed one boy and injured three others.

Unfortunately, many similar and worse tragedies almost certainly will occur in the months and years to come. Millions of men will return from the battle fronts. Many of them will bring souvenirs of war with them, since Americans are enthusiastic souvenir hunters. And some of those relics will be potential sudden death for anyone and everyone who chances to be near them.

The situation will be infinitely worse than the aftermath to World War I. As long as 20 and 25 years after the end of that struggle, explosions of souvenirs were killing and maiming.

Certainly the potential risk is sufficiently great that every individual should take any safeguards necessary to avoid proximity to this sort of danger. There are some who believe it would be wise for the government to require that such things be turned in. Most people should not require compulsion to get rid of this sort of danger — and quickly. They should be anxious to get such things into the hands of the nearest police, federal agents or someone who knows what to do with them.

This is an attitude which should be dictated by the most urgent self-interest — by the realization that it would be the sort of precaution which might save their lives.

Smash The Rackets

The most shameful period of America's history was the prohibition era of bootleg racketeers and gangsters. Illegal businesses involved killings by poisonous liquors and by gang wars. For well more than a decade after World War I, mobs ruled many of our big cities and much of our city and state politics. It was wiped out only by federal intervention and, in many cases, after local scandals.

Today there exists, and has existed for most of the years of World War II, a situation almost as notorious as the bootleg empire, lacking only the gang wars to make it equally infamous.

This is the racketeering arising from shortages and rationing of commodities through wartime necessity. There is not one phase of civilian life that escaped the get-rich-quick clan, and in many cases, even the military suffered.

In recent days, tremendous illegal "tie-in sale" business in produce unfit for human consumption was uncovered at Cleveland; 65 dining car workers were arrested in New York for selling to civilians the steak and duck dinners intended for redeployed soldiers; a big grocery store chain in the mid-west was charged with over-ceiling sales in all commodities.

It is heartening to see that some of the thousands of violations, by which nearly everyone of us has been victimized at some time, are being uncovered for prosecution.

Valuable Souvenirs

The federal government's demand for the return of civilian defense equipment distributed through state organizations is legally justified, but practically it is foolish and impossible.

Of the equipment handed out, except for certain special units that are recoverable, all that remains are the steel helmets and stirrup pumps. The helmets are battered, and the pumps—at least those that got into the hands of individuals—are partly worn out. The remainder of the pumps—those that never reached the individuals but are stored—might be in good condition.

But everything else is gone. And if it weren't, who would want an oil cloth arm-band with a mysterious insignia on it anyway? In fact, who would want a steel helmet of the vintage of 1918? No one in the world but a civilian who signed up for civilian defense in World War II and looks upon these slightly ridiculous articles as valuable souvenirs of a unique experience in the annals of mankind. Since the only person who conceivably could want them already has them, why not charge off the whole thing to the Home Front Follies of World War II and call it quits?

Is The French Press Free?

President Truman's apparently offhand remark to French correspondents about the tone of their newspapers' comments on the United States may have been an unintentional slip. If not, it has serious implications. In that case, it would imply that Mr. Truman is assuming the right to lecture the press.

If Gen. de Gaulle were to criticize the American press for its comments on France, some of which have been strongly critical, it would be a blunder. In the United States, the press is free. It does not speak for the government. It stands or falls on its own opinions. To assume that it was subject to a reprimand by the head of a foreign government would be an affront to its integrity. Significantly, there has been no such reprimand from Gen. de Gaulle. He has not assumed the right to lecture the American press on its attitudes.

If the French press is free and Mr. Truman grants that it is free, he should respect its freedom. If any promise is allowable—and on that matter Mr. Truman should be well advised—he then has rebuked not the French press but whatever power he believes is using it to give the United States a black eye.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, August 29

JUDGING by the lunar and mutual aspects of major planets, this is a day on which grand strides may be made in the direction of decisively and happily advancing upon cherished goals, whether they involve domestic, social, romantic affiliations or the more sordid objectives and ambitions in a financial, business, professional or in the desire for public power, popularity and community standing.

All are under stimuli for great accomplishments, even though others in influence or high prestige may be ready to assist, but accept such modestly and graciously, without boasting or braggadocio, generously giving credit.

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of a year of unusual achievement, perhaps, honors, promotion and preferment, with those in place and power graciously ready to give support to important and worthwhile plans and projects. These may concern financial, political, business or professional ambitions or could involve social, domestic or romantic ties and happiness. A show of proper appreciation of such influential, or affectional affiliation, without boasting or inflated ego, should beget excellent returns in available assets and purely personal gratifications. Such might be marked by happy festivities.

A child born on this day may be blessed by Lady Luck as well as generosity of those in high places, aiding to promotion and happiness. A tendency to brag or boast should be early disciplined.

Sugar rationing hasn't stopped peace from making these days mighty sweet ones.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Bleeding Neglect Disastrous

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE knowledge of certain facts about diseases may often have harmful effects. It works out this way. Many people know that piles and hemorrhoids may cause bleeding from the rectum, so, when such bleeding occurs, they have a tendency to ignore it, thinking that it is due to a condition which is in no way dangerous. But there are conditions of a serious nature that can cause bleeding from the rectum and the difference between rapid recovery and prolonged invalidism may depend upon the correct determination of the cause for such bleeding.

Hence, according to Doctor Alvin Baldwin of Dallas, a prompt and complete investigation should be made in all instances in which rectal bleeding occurs. This will give the opportunity for discovering whatever condition is present so that it may be corrected before complications occur. Furthermore, in many instances, a cancer may be discovered in its early stages when a cure is possible.

It is true that hemorrhoids or piles are the usual cause for rectal bleeding but even the presence of hemorrhoids should not be accepted as the sole cause for the bleeding until a careful study is carried out. This study should include X-ray of the lower bowel as well as the use of a sigmoidoscope which is a tube with lights, which can be passed into the rectum, enabling the physician to look directly at the lining membrane of the bowel.

Other causes for bleeding from the rectum include fissures or cracking of the tissues, tumor growths known as polyps, ulcers, inflammation of the bowel or colitis and certain general diseases, such as leukemia in which there is an increase in the number of white cells in the blood and purpura, a condition in which bleeding occurs into various tissues as a result of a deficiency of material in the blood known as platelets. Fissures of the rectum may bleed, are painful and may cause gripping.

Polyp Bleeding

In children under ten years of age perhaps the most common cause for rectal bleeding is a polyp in the lower part of the rectum. These polyps often bleed and should be removed surgically.

The most important cause for rectal bleeding is cancer.

If, in addition to blood, there is a discharge of mucus or pus or both, colitis is probably responsible for bleeding from the rectum.

Rectal bleeding should never be ignored. It is an important warning sign.

ALL RESTRICTIONS ARE LIFTED ON THE USE OF GAS IN THE HOME

Here's the good news thousands of homeowners have been waiting for!

Government Order U-7, which restricted the use of Gas for new heating installations, has been rescinded effective at once.

As a result you can now plan to enjoy the many advantages of automatic Gas heat in your home—completely automatic operation, spic and span cleanliness, uniform healthful heat, plus the carefree comfort and convenience you've always wanted.

Unfortunately, Gas heating equipment is not yet available for all who might want it.

It will take some time for manufacturers to secure necessary materials and to reconvert their plants to peace time manufacture. But you can rely on their initiative and genius to speed production so that before long the best of equipment will again be in ample supply.

While we're waiting for equipment, it will pay you to take steps to get the best Gas heating possible. Insulation and storm windows will assure you the utmost economy in Gas heat. And be sure to talk the matter over with your Gas Company or heating contractor. Get an estimate of the cost of heating your home the modern way—with Natural Gas.

Your Gas Company thanks you for the wholehearted cooperation you extended during the many trying days, now happily past. We look forward to serving you well in the peaceful days ahead, so that Gas, your most versatile fuel in the home, will continue to give you the high quality of service you have learned to expect from it.

COLUMBIANA, Aug. 28—Members of the Columbiana Kiwanis club visited the after-dinner meeting of the Rotary club at Valley Golf club last night to hear a talk by Dr. Russell Squires, head of the music department of Pepperdine college, Los Angeles, Calif.

The meeting was one of a series based on the topic, "The Future of Columbiana," and was in charge of program chairman Russell Lindsay. Dr. Squires discussed the possibilities of bringing a college to Columbiana, stating his belief that this would be an ideal location. He outlined items necessary for a start, adding that he knew of persons willing to aid such a project financially.

A round table discussion participated in by members of both clubs followed, and it was decided to appoint committees to investigate the matter.

There will be no Rotary meeting next week, due to the Labor Day holiday.

The World Today

This might have the effect of removing the grave threat of civil war in China.

Russia is to withdraw her troops from Manchuria within three months of Tokyo's surrender and China once more gets this great state which Japan stole from her.

The Manchurian city of Port Arthur, which Russia leased from China in 1898 but lost in 1905 in the war with Japan, is to be used jointly by China and the Soviet Union as a naval base. The two countries also are to operate operate jointly the Chinese Eastern and Southern Manchuria railways.

There are other terms, but none of them seems to lessen China's sovereignty. If this agreement is carried out it will give China a chance to build up her strength and become the major power which she is now in name only. It seems to be a pledge by Russia that she has limited her spheres of influence.

It will be interesting to see if all allied statesmen regard it in that light. Diplomatic officials in Washington have hailed the treaty as a great boon to peace.

General Fireproofing, Alliance Moose To Play At Reilly Field

Sinclair Will Meet Moose, GF To Clash With Mullins In Boosters Club Benefit

Softball at its best—as played by the General Fireproofing team of Youngstown and the Alliance Moose—will be on tap for Salem sports fans at Reilly stadium at 7:30 p. m. Friday as the Class A champions of the first two rounds here, Mullins and Sinclair, pair off to meet the out-of-towners in a Boosters club benefit game.

Sinclair, winners of the second round, will face the Alliance club and Patsy Konnerth's Mullins team will clash with the G-F outfit. All funds derived from the contest will go into the Salem Boosters service-men's fund.

Joe M. Kelley, Class A league manager, has arranged the tilt with John Russ, manager of the G-F squad, and with the Alliance Moose. Both teams will play here without charge, being paid only their expenses to and from Salem. Tickets for the event, which should be one of the highlights of the summer sports card, are on sale with members of the Boosters club. Kelley and Art Brian, secretary of the club, are handling distribution.

The two Salem clubs will combine their talents with some of the loops top individual talents to prepare for the important clashes. Mullins will undoubtedly employ Francis Lannoy on the mound while Sinclair will use their regular hill ace, Mutt Schaefer.

Infield and outfield men will be "borrowed" from other Class A squads to round out the substitution situation.

The Fireproofers have won 42 contests to date, while losing nine. Two of the losses came over the weekend at Columbus, where they were bested by a Massillon team and Bob's Chevroleters of Columbus.

Both Mullins and Sinclair are still in the running for third round honors and are sure of a chance at the city championship by virtue of their respective round titles. Manager Bruce Ritchie indicated today that he would use his regular lineup throughout most of the fray, but may insert other players in part of the game.

Playing under Youngstown league regulations, which allow base stealing from the moment the ball leaves a pitcher's hand, the Sinclair lost 12-0 to the G-F squad in Youngstown last week.

The base regulation, as employed there, is more difficult for a team unaccustomed to it and unquestionably gave the G-F outfit the edge on that score.

Here the Youngstowners and the Alliance team will play local rules, which limit a base runner to stealing only after the ball has passed the plate.

Sport Chatter

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Although Navy football coaches aren't saying anything, don't be surprised if Midshipman Cecil Duffy of Birmingham, Ala., turned out to be the best back at Annapolis this season. Duffy was kept under wraps as a Plebe last year, but those who have seen him say he really can go. In his first year in the majors—1905—Ty Cobb got in so far wrong with his Detroit teammates that Manager Hugh Jennings decided to trade him off for the good of the club. The offers weren't so good, so Ty only remained a Tiger for 24 seasons.

RECONVERSION NOTE

Remember a couple of months ago when there was a two-front war on and it looked as if transportation troubles would wreck what was left of the sports program? Well, look at this week's choice of National, the Chicago All-Star football game; the All-American high ball game; the finals of the American Legion and National Semi-pro baseball tournaments and what have developed into a pair of terrific pennant races. To borrow Tommy Fitzgerald's swell line, the only OMT that seems to be causing any trouble is O'Neill's Detroit team.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Jack Saunders, who'll play in the outfield for Babe Ruth's east team in tonight's Esquire ball game, plays the drums and xylophone in civic concerts at Cincinnati. And he probably wouldn't be commented by any comparisons with Eddie Basinski, the Dodgers' violinist-shortstop.

BROWNS IN MIDST OF SNEAK-UP FOR SECOND A. L. FLAG

Playing Ball At .792 Pace To Decrease Lead To Four Games

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

While others have been stealing the spotlight, the American league champion St. Louis Browns are quietly going about playing the brand of baseball that may gain them their second straight flag.

With Detroit and Washington, the only two teams ahead of the Browns in the standings, apparently being into nose-dives, the Browns, as a result of last night's 7-1 triumph over the Chicago White Sox, are only four games out of first place, and may sneak into the lead by Labor day.

Should St. Louis sweep the two-game series with the Tigers starting today, they will stand a very good chance to overtake the Bengals and Nats. For while Detroit and Washington tangle with the tough Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees respectively, the Browns will have comparatively easy pickings in a four-game set with the White Sox from whom they've just concluded a five-game sweep.

Fast Pace

Yesterday's victory over the Pale Hose marked St. Louis' 19th win in its last 24 games, a .792 pace, or the best in the league during the past three weeks.

Although the air-tight pitching which has featured their games in the past two weeks finally fell off, the Browns came through with some heavy hitting to pull out yesterday's game.

The only other major league action was a two-night double header between the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies, won by the Giants 4-0 and 6-2.

FIGHT RESULTS

NEW YORK—Phil Terranova, 130, New York, knocked out Jean Barriere, 132, Montreal, 4.
PITTSBURGH—Doll Rafferty, 135, Milwaukee, outpointed Joey Peralta, 137½, Tampa, Pa., 10.
JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Freddie Archer, 144, Newark, outpointed Jackie Larimore, 147, Miami, 10.
CHICAGO—Chuck Hunter, 151½, Cleveland, outpointed Bill Parsons, 142½, Danville, Ill., 8.

Aluminum is being used more extensively in construction of auto engines. Crankcases made of this material are said to be superior to those constructed of cast iron, because heat flows through aluminum three times faster than it does through cast iron and the bearing surfaces are not so apt to become hot.

TRIBE COACH SAYS FELLER'S PITCHES BETTER THAN 1940

Shotton Believes Ex-Gob Will Make It Tough For Flag Winners

By JIMMY JORDAN

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Ex-Sailor Bob Feller probably can't pitch Cleveland into an American league pennant this year, but before he gets through with his season's chores, the chances are he'll give the pennant contenders plenty of trouble.

"I think he can win every game he starts the rest of the season," Indian Coach Burt Shotton said today.

"I didn't see much of him when he pitched in the American league before he went to the Navy, but if he throws that ball like he did against Detroit last Friday, I don't know who can stop him. From what I knew of him, he's better now than he was four years ago."

Right now, the Indians are six and a half games back of league leading Detroit, down in fifth place, with 36 games left to play. But in that 36-game stretch they meet every team in the league, and have to series with Detroit, third-place St. Louis and sixth-place Chicago.

Improved Ball
"I don't know how often he'll pitch, but he'll have to have some bad days if he loses any," Shotton said. "He's still got that fast ball, and he has some new pitches that give him a chance to conserve some of his energy."

"He's developed a slider that keeps the hitters guessing all the time. He really knows when to use it and he can rely on that fast ball to throw past them when he needs a strikeout," Shotton said. In Bob's first major league game after nearly four years in the Navy he struck out 12 Detroit Tigers and gave them only four hits.

Tonight he is scheduled to start against the Chicago White Sox here.

LEONTONIA HOLDS TO ROUND CHANCE WITH 3-2 MARGIN

Defeat Demings In Tight Fray at Park As Gap On 1st Closes Slowly

With a 3-2 margin over the Deming Pumpers, Leontonia's Boosters remained definitely in the Class A softball race at Centennial park last night, moving up to the top of the loop to do battle with the Salem China team, now posing in first with five wins and a single loss.

The Leontonians must meet the Salem News, now in seventh place and leasers to Mullins last night on a forfeit, before clashing with the China. They haven't been able to defeat the News so far this year.

Herold Winner

Don Herold, left handed hurler, did the honors for Leontonia last night, outpitching Kenny Brudery of Demings in what was a bang-up ball game all the way.

Demings led off with a single run lead in the first, but the Boosters punched out several hits to tie it up 1-1 in the last of the first.

Demings again took the lead but a Booster rally put the game on ice by one run.

Tonight Sinclair meet Mullins and Demings clash with the China in replay of postponed games.

Average Fan Can Take Account of New Regulations By Noting These Six Principal NCAA Changes

Wainwright Arrives In Chungking Today

CHUNGKING, Aug. 28.—Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, 62-year-old hero of the American and Filipino stand at Corregidor, arrived in Chungking today with eight other U. S. generals and seven British generals released from a Japanese prisoner of war camp in Manchuria.

The names of the eight American generals accompanying Wainwright were not made public.

The British generals were headed by Lt. Gen. Arthur Ernest Percival, former commander at Singapore.

The general immediately was handed a wreath, transmitted from the United States, of his wife, and inscribed by her:

"I am very happy today. Waiting impatiently for your return. We are all well. Best love to you. Kitty M. W."

Wainwright smiled happily. The group of released Allied prisoners of the Japanese included about 35 persons. They arrived in two planes from Russia-occupied Mukden.

British imperials for occupation of Malaya and the East Indies after Sept. 2.

2. That arrangements be made for succor to Allied prisoners of war in the theater. The Japanese, giving full details on Allied prisoners of war, said they were in good condition.

3. That the Japanese clear certain areas of troops, except for such forces as are necessary to keep the peace.

These preliminaries indicate Mountbatten will accept the surrender of the enemy southern armies soon after the Japanese sign with Gen. MacArthur in Tokyo. It was emphasized the conditions to be imposed will be dictated by MacArthur in Tokyo.

Kroll Disappointed

COLUMBUS, Aug. 28.—Jack Kroll, president of the Ohio CIO council, today expressed "disappointment" with Gov. Lausche's message summoning a special legislature to put increased jobs pay into immediate effect.

Kroll declared the special session should be allowed to consider aspects of the unemployment benefit system other than the effective date.

Wallace Backs Job Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Secretary of Commerce Wallace told senators today the Wagner-Murray job assurance bill "represents the conservative way of attaining full production and full employment."

The alternatives, he told the senate banking subcommittee, are totalitarianism or a control of economy, which "obviously would mean the end of the free enterprise system."

"The full employment bill does not call for a planned economy," the former vice president said. "As I have publicly stated, I am against a planned economy but I am for intelligent planning to keep our American economic system competitively free and vigorous."

"I agree with Senator Taft that someone should be doing the job of studying and correcting the facts so that we can have intelligent planning."

Taft (R-Ohio) was not present to hear the expression of agreement from the man whose economic theories he frequently has challenged.

MANY LEADERS STUMBLE

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Individual stocks managed to keep in the forward ranks of today's market although many leaders stumbled.

Wall Street still leaned to the idea of reconversion would not be too troublesome and that pent-up demand for consumer goods would bring sizable profits for numerous corporations when normal operations are resumed. Five successive advancing sessions to new eight-year peaks for industrials, however, inspired the trimming of accounts here and there because of the possibility of technical correction.

Offerings dwindled appreciably after the opening and, while little real weakness was in evidence, prices were spotty near the fourth hour.

In the resistant area were Goodrich, U. S. Rubber, Great Northern American, Can. United Aircraft, Consolidated Edison and DuPont. Laggards included Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Montgomery Ward, Southern Railway, General Electric, Eastman Kodak and Texas Co.

Bonds were relatively steady and commodities narrow.

Salaries for teachers range anywhere from $1395 to $2300, for superintendents and principals from $3000 to $3900. The position of superintendent at Fairfield Centralized school pays $3,000, and the principalship at North Georgetown pays $2,000.

public buildings, schools and churches.

Galveston island resort city and shipping center, felt up to 60 miles per hour winds and rains flooded the streets.

Many Towns Lashed

But Houston and Galveston had felt only a feeble stroke of the hurricane's mighty lash. Southward, for hundreds of miles down the fertile, curving coastline wrecked homes and buildings and flattened, washed-out crops bore witness to winds that had reached 135 miles per hour and to surging destructive tides.

Towns like Port Lavaca and Bay City, Seadrift and Rockport felt the storm's full wrath. Port Lavaca town of about 3,000, suffered damage to every house and building. Many houses and buildings were unroofed at Rockport, population 1,720.

A report from Bay City, an inland town of 6,000 about 60 miles southwest of Houston, said the community was torn apart by a 10-mile-per-hour wind.

Mountainous tides swamped the little community of Seadrift, just south of Port Lavaca, and the winds reached 135 miles per hour.
